Do solar panels need cleaning?

There are some instances where solar panels might need cleaning, but most of the evidence says solar panels are self-sufficient and low-maintenance. We'll get to the best way to clean your solar panels in a minute.

How do you clean solar panels?

The best way to clean solar panels is to use a soft-bristled brush or squeegee specifically designed for solar panels, along with a mild soap or specialized cleaning solution. Avoid abrasive materials, excessive pressure, and cleaning during the hottest part of the day. Rinse thoroughly and dry the panels to prevent water spots.

How often should solar panels be cleaned?

Generally, it is recommended to clean your solar panels at least twice a year. However, if you live in a particularly dusty area or experience frequent bird droppings, more frequent cleaning may be necessary. Delve into the best practices for solar panel cleaning, discover common mistakes, and read our step-by-step for cleaning your solar panels.

Can a waterless cleaning method remove dust from solar panels?

Dust that accumulates on solar panels is a major problem, but washing the panels uses huge amounts of water. MIT engineers have now developed a waterless cleaning method to remove dust on solar installations in water-limited regions, improving overall efficiency. Image courtesy of the researchers.

Can a cleaning brush be used on solar panels?

It can be used on both solar thermal panels as well as solar PV and is a non-caustic formula. This cleaning brush is specially designed to clean solar panels with a 7.5metre telescopic rod and rotating circular brushes with a direct water feed.

Can you use vinegar to clean solar panels?

Vinegar is a great cleaning agent for solar panels because it contains acetic acid, which is very capable of breaking down tough stains, dirt and grease. It is also readily available and any vinegar will do although the best type to use is white cleaning vinegar.
