Can the bedside locker be used to store white paper

Overview

Do you have a bedside locker?

A bedside locker is available for personal belongings, however storage space in each bedroom is limited so please only bring essential items during your stay. This is important so that we can keep surfaces tidy and clutter-free to allow for easy and effective cleaning, which helps to keep you safe.

Where should medicines be stored in a Ward/department?

5.1 Patient's own medicines brought into the ward/department should be stored in the patient bedside lockers with integral medicines storage drawers/cabinets. This medicine storage drawer/cabinet must be kept locked at all times and the key held securely by the ward/department.

Do hospitals use paper based prescribing?

Most hospitals used paper-based prescribing on the majority of medical and surgical inpatient wards (87% of hospitals), patient bedside medication lockers (92%), patients' own drugs (89%) and 'one-stop dispensing' medication labelled with administration instructions for use at discharge as well as during the inpatient stay (85%).

What should not be stored in a ward?

1.7 Controlled drug and medicine cupboards, cabinets and refrigerators MUST NOT be used for the storage of other materials, or patients' valuables. 1.8 Ward Closure - If a ward or department is to close permanently all medicines and pharmacy products must be returned to pharmacy.

Should medicine cupboards be locked if not in use?

1.5 All medicine cupboards and refrigerators in which medicines are stored should be kept locked when not in use. 1.6 Medicine cupboards must not be marked with distinguishing labels such as "C.D. Cupboard" etc. Colour coding of locks and keys is the preferred method for ease of identification by the registered nurse/midwife if required.

Where should linen be stored?

linen should be kept in a closed store rather than on open trolleys. Local policy will determine single-bed rooms or in a central store.
