Does Fiji have a good energy supply?

Like for many other SIDs Fiji's geographical situation means that affordable and accessible energy supply is a challenge. The Island state depends heavily on imported fossil fuel to meet its energy needs, nevertheless, renewable energy sources, mainly hydro, account for 55% of the country's total energy production.

What is Fiji's national energy policy 2023-2030?

Fiji's National Energy Policy 2023-2030 is the blueprint towards a highly sustainable, inclusive, reliable, and affordable energy services sector by the close of the decade. It sets a strong policy foundation for the transformational investments that are urgently needed to revolutionise our energy sector for the better.

Does Fiji have electricity?

The rest of the islands in Fiji are electrified through diesel generator sets, micro hydro systems or generators running on biofuel. The electrification of the off-grid population comes under Fiji Department of Energy (FDoE). Selected PICs' demography and energy data. The access to electricity in Fijian households is not 100 %.

How can Fiji improve energy security?

Currently hydro power accounts for a large proportion of Fiji's renewable energy generating. However, scaling up other renewable energy technologies, such as solar, would diversify state's energy mix and thereby help improve energy security.

What is Fiji's energy policy?

This Policy will ensure that Fiji's agricultural sector and local industries can benefit from a further source of sustainable, indigenously-sourced energy while minimising any potential impacts on the environment or national food security.

Will Fiji be able to produce 100% of electricity by 2030?

10.3.1 To derive as close to 100% of electricity services from renewable energy sources as possible by 2030. In keeping with Fiji's climate change commitments and development goals, Fiji will systematically scale up the transition to renewable energy-based electricity production.
