What is the future of electricity supply in Iraq?

Is foreign help enough to fix Iraq's energy problems?

Foreign help is not enough to fix energy issues, domestic reform is necessary. This past July, Iraq and France's TotalEnergies finalized the Gas Growth Integrated Project, a $27 billion energy deal aimed at Iraq's natural resources and improving the country's electricity supply.

How can Iraq achieve a balance between oil and gas?

Striking the right balance Iraq is fortunate to have natural resources, but the historical dominance of oil and gas creates a challenge. Eliminating gas flaring and reducing methane emissions is a welcome first step.

Why is Iraq's energy system vulnerable?

However the capacity to capture and process this gas has not kept pace. The inability to utilise its gas riches means that the country's gas deficit has grown, and Iraq now relies on imports from Iran to meet increasing demand. This has introduced a number of vulnerabilities to Iraq's energy system.

What does the TotalEnergies deal mean for Iraq?

The TotalEnergies deal aims to help Iraq harness the natural gas emitted by its oil wells, achieve a more balanced energy portfolio, and address some of its domestic electricity shortages. It would also be significantly cheaper for Iraq to harness its own gas rather than to continue with its current agreement with Iran.
