The Battery as a Service industry stands at the forefront of the energy revolution, offering flexible, sustainable, and cost-effective solutions for energy storage. As technological advancements continue to shape the landscape and the demand for energy independence grows, the BaaS model will become increasingly relevant across various sectors.

Battery swapping, also known as Battery-as-a-Service (BaaS), is the ability to swap the battery of the car for a 100 per cent fully charged battery. It can be used for whenever those extra miles on the road are needed. BaaS removes the hassle of standing on the charging stations for hours to fully charge the car battery.

Clean Energy Global specializes in providing Battery-as-a-Service solutions to its B2B clients, enabling them to offer white-label smart energy storage within an intelligent network. We are building India's largest and fastest growing Battery Swapping Network for electric two and three-wheelers. The company offers battery-as-a-service .

“Pixii's Battery in the Grid (B.I.G) model and Battery as a Service (BaaS) approach enable DSOs to upgrade infrastructures efficiently and cost-effectively, turning batteries into dynamic investment tools.”

India's Battery-as-a-Service

(BaaS) Revolution?

Sort of like renting a battery. You buy a vehicle, but you don't pay for the battery up front. Instead, you take a subscription that allows you to spread the cost over a longer time frame. And each time you need to swap out your discharged battery for a new one, just visit the station and you're good to go. It's Battery-as-a-Service or BaaS.

Battery-as-a-Service (BaaS): The Revolution Ahead , SCC Times

The BaaS model envisages leasing of the battery from a charging infrastructure company and swapping the battery in swapping stations for a recharged battery every time the battery gets discharged. The said leasing is offered as a service and akin to "software as a service", "banking as a service" and "infrastructure as a service"
