Rental solar power scam

Overview

Solar panel scams target homeowners interested in installing solar energy systems. They involve scammers making false promises or tricking you into paying for services you'll never receive. Is a solar lease a scam?

Solar Lease or PPA Scams While leasing or using a Power Purchase Agreement (PPA) for solar panels isn't inherently a scam, these contracts can be challenging to break. Be cautious, as they may lock you into an unwanted monthly payment for a solar array you don't own.

What is a solar energy scam?

The scams vary, but here's the gist: someone claiming to be with the government or your utility company promises big savings on your utility bills from solar energy or other home improvements designed to increase energy efficiency. If you agree to the scammer's offer, it could cost you tens of thousands of dollars.

Are free solar panels a scam?

Know that "free" or "no cost" solar panel offers are scams. The federal government does not install solar systems in homes for free. If you're considering whether solar energy is right for you, check out the Department of Energy's guide for homeowners and learn more. Or check out the Department of Treasury's guidance on clean energy.

How do you identify a solar panel company to avoid scams?

These tactics may include persistent calls, scare tactics, door-to-door visits, or making unfounded claims about solar benefits.
