Clever Dx vs Yokogawa WT3000 , Clever Solar Devices

One of the most respected research centers in the energy field in Spain has recently completed a comparative study between the high-end WT3000 equipment and our technological solution at Clever. This study, conducted under strict evaluation criteria, reveals surprising results in favor of Clever Dx, especially in terms of accuracy and

Clipping Loss: Energy goes to waste during the day

Thanks to our device Clever Dx, the effects and performance of other devices equipped with solar PVs became apparent in real-time, such as AC/DC inverters. AC/DC inverters are common devices where solar PVs modules are connected, and AC/DC inverters convert the current from solar PVs (DC) to alternating current electricity (AC).

Just in Time vs Just in Case , Clever Solar Devices

This not only reduces operational costs by minimizing disruptions and superfluous expenses, but also maximizes energy production by ensuring installations operate at their optimal point. In an environment where every kilowatt counts, adopting a detailed, real-time, data-driven approach offers a clear competitive advantage, improving business
